
Cleveland Breakwater Lighthouse, circa 1890. Whistle fog signal at left, standby bell signal at center. Structure at right is possibly a boathouse. U. S. Lighthouse Society photo courtesy of Marie Tilson.

Fog Horn

Rolling within a fog
Trapped without eyes,
One round sound
Searches for ears.

—Stephen Edge